If the processing takes place in compliance with legal obligations or to implement the obligations deriving from the contractual relationship or in the event of another hypothesis of exclusion, expressly provided for or dependent on the laws and regulations applied by the Joint Controllers(in particular application of the Code of Ethics and / or legitimate interest of the Joint Controllers), or even through third parties identified as data processors, the processing of your personal data does not require your consent.

What happens if you do not provide your data?

Your data, collected or otherwise obtained by the Joint Controllers, are considered necessary and failure to provide it will make it impossible for the Joint Controllers to carry out the activities relating to the main processing, i.e. to:

- the management of the supply contract;
- the obligations, legal or otherwise, resulting from the established relationship.

How and for how long is your data retained?

How

Data processing is carried out on paper or through IT procedures by internal subjects authorised and trained for this purpose. They are granted access to your personal data to the extent and within the limits required for carrying out the processing activities that concern you.

The Joint Controllers periodically check the tools by means of which your data is processed and their security measures, which it constantly updates; it makes sure, also through the subjects authorised to process the data, that personal data for which processing is not necessary is not collected, processed, stored or retained; it makes sure that the data is retained with the guarantee of integrity and authenticity of its use for the purposes of the processing actually carried out.

Where

The data are retained on paper, computer and electronic files located within the European Economic Area, and appropriate security measures are ensured.

Personal data communicated to Group companies based in countries outside the European Economic Area, in order to carry out the activities envisaged by the contract signed with the Joint Controllers, it will be applied the standard contractual clauses.

How long

The personal data processed by the Joint Controllers are retained for the time necessary for carrying out activities related to the management of the contract with the Joint Controllers and until ten years after its conclusion or from when the rights that depend on it can be enforced (pursuant to art. 2935 and art. 2947 of the Italian Civil Code); as well as for the fulfilment of the obligations (e.g. tax and accounting obligations) that remain even after the conclusion of the contract (art. 2220 of the Italian Civil Code), for the purposes of which the Joint Controllers must retain only the data necessary for their furtherance.

This is without prejudice to your right to oppose at any time the processing based on legitimate interest for reasons related to your particular situation.

What are your rights?

In substance, at any time and free of charge and without any special charges or formalities for your request, you can:

- obtain confirmation of the processing carried out by the Joint Controllers;
- access your personal data and know its origin (when the data is not obtained directly from you), the purposes of the processing, the data of the subjects to whom it is communicated, the period of retention of your data or the criteria used to determine it;
- update or rectify your personal data so that it is always accurate and correct;
- erase your personal data from the databases and/or files, including backup files, of the Joint Controllers, if, among other things, it is no longer necessary for the purposes of the processing or if this is deemed unlawful, and provided that the conditions laid down by law are met; and in any event if the processing is not justified by another equally legitimate reason;
- restrict the processing of your personal data in some circumstances, for example if you have contested its accuracy, for the period required for the Joint Controllers to check its accuracy. You must also be informed, in reasonable time, of when the period of suspension has ended or the cause of the restriction of processing has ceased to exist, and therefore the restriction itself withdrawn;
- obtain your personal data, if received or processed by the Joint Controllers with your consent and/or if its processing is carried out on the basis of a contract and with automated tools, in electronic format also in order to transmit it to another Data Controller.

Joint Controllers must do so without delay and, in any case, at the latest within one month of receipt of your request. The time limit can be extended by two months, if necessary, taking into account the complexity and the number of requests received by the Joint Controllers. In such cases, the Joint Controllers will have to inform you of the reasons for the extension within one month of receipt of your request.

For any further information and to send your request, please contact the Joint Controllers at the email address privacy@aquafil.com
